

The company  deals with the design, manufacture and repair of casting tools, casting production and casting processing.

Our quality policy, in which we commit to quality and continuous improvement, states that we will firmly and completely meet the needs identified by our most important partners. The customer is at the heart of our business. We offer the highest quality service with a current technological background and a dedicated team of professionals with decades of professional experience. We strive to continuously meet the needs of our partners in order to achieve their satisfaction. In the context of high-quality production, the protection of our environment as well as the occupational health and safety of our employees have priority.

As a responsible company, we take sustainability aspects into account in our business operations. All members of the management of our company are committed to sustainable development and sustainable operation.

Taking into account the epidemiological measures, we consider the protection of the health of our employees to be important, we support them in a special way, introduce new measures and regulations if necessary and provide the necessary protective measures.

In accordance with our contracts with our relevant partners, we comply with the current regulations promptly and in line with quality. We operate the material, material and human resources available to us in a quality-oriented and efficient manner.

Thanks to our measurable quality goals, we make our decisions objectively. We regulate, monitor and evaluate our work processes based on risk in order to avoid mistakes and set new goals and quality improvements.

Through continuous education and training, we increase the skills and motivation of our employees in order to create maximum value for our partners and our company. Our goal is to create a community of employees who are able to implement the quality policy.

In order to achieve our quality goals, we offer casting production processes according to ISO 9001: 2015 and IATF 16949: 2016 at our Apc location and in our branch in Satu Mare.

It is our goal to achieve appreciation, recognition and recognition with our products and services!

We review our quality policy annually and adapt it to the goals of the organization.

Digitálisan aláírta:
Hornyik Máté

Chief Executive Officer